

Annual Press Conference On February 22

The seventh annual Catholic Press Conference of Maryland and Washington will be held at Saint Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, on February 22.

Moderators and student journalists from colleges, high schools and parishes in Maryland, Washington and Pennsylvania will attend the conference, under the direction of Sister Mary Ellen, head of the Department of Journalism at the host college.

Awards To Be Made

Panels and classes conducted by authorities in the respective fields of journalism plus the annual high school writing clinic will highlight the day's festivities. Climax of the event will be the general assembly in the afternoon, at which the outstanding college, high school and parish newspapers of the year will receive awards for their work.

William Fanning, Jr., editor of the N. C. W. C. News Service, will be the guest speaker at the general assembly.

Staff Will Attend

Speakers at the various classes include the Rev. William Kailer Dunn, moderator of the Catholic Youth Organization Press Club of the Archdiocese of Baltimore, Howard M. Norton, of the Sun staff, winner of the 1947 Pulitzer Prize in Journalism, and William Ring, of the N. C. W. C. News Service.

The editorial staff of THE GREYHOUND and the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S.J., Moderator, will attend. At last year's conference, held at Loyola College, THE GREYHOUND was awarded the Trockenbrot Press Trophy, symbolic of the outstanding Catholic college newspaper in this area.

501 Students In Night School

Enrollment figures for the January-May 1949 semester of the Loyola College Evening School were released last week by Rev. John E. Wise, S.J., Dean. There are 69 new students registered for this semester to bring the total to 501.

Total courses taken number 1332 as compared with 1209 in January 1948. A decrease in the number of day school students taking courses at night is shown in the 47 day students registered for this semester as compared to 131 listed for January 1948.

Nine teachers were added to the night school faculty. These include Mr. O'Neill, "Commercial Banking"; Mr. Copes, "Accounting Systems"; Mr. McDermott, "Juvenile Delinquency"; Fr. Horrigan, "Social Ethics"; Dr. Baker, "Effective Writing"; Mr. Shue, "Milton"; Miss McFarlin, "Psychological Tests and Measurements"; Fr. Dannaker, "Modern Philosophies of Education"; and Dr. Broening, "Applied Methods in English".

Under the G. I. Bill of Rights, 211 students are attending classes. There are 115 women students and 20 soldiers from Camp Holabird.

Dramatic Society Will Present Herman's Plays

George Herman

Ninety Per Cent Rule Still In Effect

The Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S.J., Dean, stated last week that until an announcement has been made to the contrary, the rule stating that a student who obtains a semester average of ninety per cent is exempted from the semester examination will remain in effect.

Rumors stating that exemptions had been abolished led to the inquiry by THE GREYHOUND.

It was revealed that at a faculty meeting on January 14, the waiving of the rule was brought up and the administration is currently considering abrogation of the rule.

Two original plays by George Herman are on the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society agenda for the coming semester, the Rev. Leo P. Monaghan, S.J., Moderator, announced last week.

Herman, Ph. B. senior whose "Marelyn," satire on the state, was presented last spring, has completed "Thy Kingdom Come," to be given during the Lenten season, and "Dakota," satire on Western stories and movies, scheduled for production in May.

Will Go On Tour

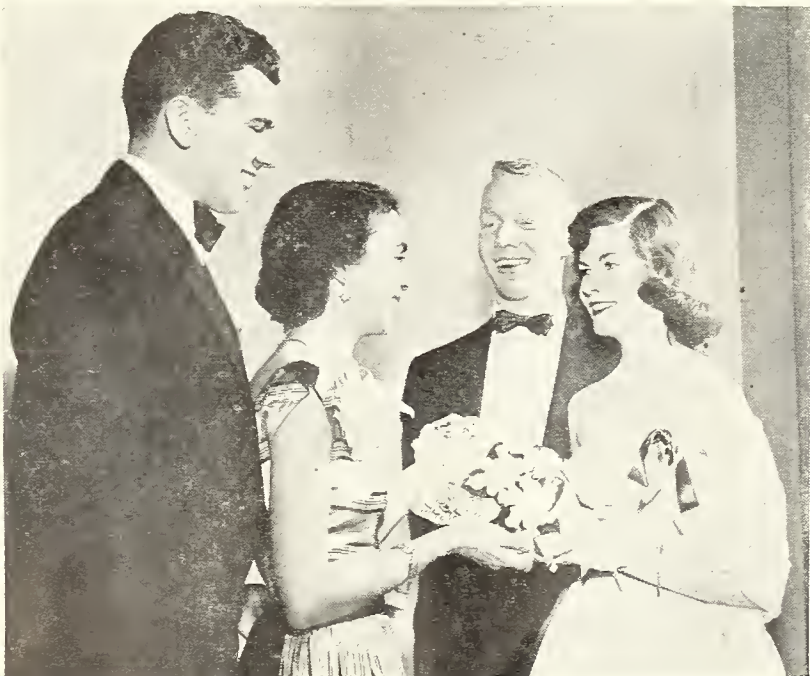

Written in poetic style, the Lenten work was suggested by Fr. Monaghan. It is the tale of a priest's sermon of the Passion and Death, and the evolution of the sermon into modern times. The plot moves from the first scene in the Sanhedrin to the Ascension.

The play will be held just before the Easter vacation, probably on Passion Sunday. Fr. Monaghan plans to take the production, containing nine scenes and 20 characters, on tour among the various parishes of the city.

24 Songs Listed

"Dakota," the book, lyrics and music of which were penned by Herman, has 24 songs, including "Wanderlust," "Nothin' Personal," "Tommy Hawks and Tom-Toms" and "Moanish Lady."

Tentative plans call for the use of twin pianos and solovox in place of the usual orchestra.

January '50 Class Holds Successful Junior Prom

First social event of the new semester, the Junior Prom of the class of January 1950 was held last Friday night, February 4, at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel's main ballroom.

Bill Slade and his orchestra provided the music-making at the affair, attendance at which was sufficient to guarantee a success for the class.

Favors Distributed

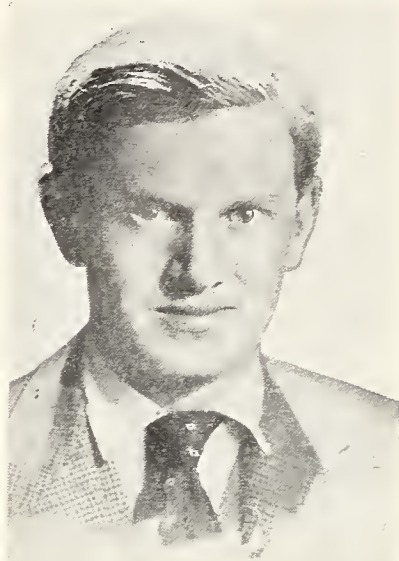

Edward J. McNeal, President of the class, and his committeemen, who spent the entire month of January advertising the F-Day prom, were pleased with the crowd which attended.

McNeal and his partner, Prom Queen Patricia Horstmann, led the promenade, climaxed by the traditional distribution of favors.

Invitations Won

Campaign for the selling of invitations to the dance was highlighted by the chancing of ducats at two basketball games. A stub was drawn from student tickets collected at the home contests with American University and Washington College.

Another feature was the gift of corsages donated by John Blondell and Harry Rodgers, Loyola students working with a local florist for lower student corsage rates.

Election News

July '50 Vote Invalidated

Invalidation of the third election of officers attempted by the July 1950 class resulted when less than fifty per cent of the members of the group voted in the balloting on January 13 and 14.

The constitution of the college states that unless fifty per cent of a class votes, the entire vote is thrown out.

The Student Council was forced to rule that since only 104 members of the class total of 248 voted, the election was not valid, and representation for the class has been suspended at least temporarily.

Breakdown of the votes cast reveal that Emidio Bianco received 48, Lawrence Mohr 37, Alan Tustin 13, Anthony Vogel 4, Francis Russo 1, and Stephen Maltese 1.

Bianco thus was in the lead for the presidency, while Mohr was ahead in the vice-president race. Vogel was leading with 52% votes cast for secretary, and Maltese, with 55% of the ballots cast for treasurer, was high for that position.

Evergreen Annual Starts Drive For Student Patrons

A drive for patrons for the 1949 Evergreen will begin on Monday, February 21, Calvert Kenning, Business Manager of the annual, announced last week.

Kenning stated that the fee for patrons is three dollars, and the Rev. Joseph A. d'Invilliers, S.J., Moderator of the book, is contacting each student's parents in order to obtain patrons.

Book Free

According to the editorial staff of the Evergreen, each Loyola student will receive a copy of the book, due to be published on July 15, free of charge. Procedure of distribution of the annual will be announced later, but it is definite that copies will be given with no payment.

"Financial aid through the medium of patrons," Kenning said, "is therefore a necessity. Since we are not charging for the book, and since costs of printing and engraving are higher than ever, we must have a successful patron drive in order to proceed on our original plan for the book."

Will Contain 160 Pages

Donald E. Fay, Editor-in-Chief, stated that the annual will contain

Crowd Hears Waugh Speak

A near capacity crowd attended the lecture by the renowned English author Evelyn Waugh at the Maryland Casualty Auditorium last Tuesday evening. Waugh delivered an address, "A Spiritual Odyssey," reflections on the works of Ronald Knox, Gilbert K. Chesterton and Graham Greene.

Waugh, recipient of an honorary degree of Loyola at the inauguration of the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., President, in December of 1947, is the author of The Loved One, Brideshead Revisited, Scoop and Vile Bodies.

Chapel Fund To Benefit

Proceeds from the lecture, tickets to which were sold in the college bookstore and at the Bonney Concert Bureau, will go to the Loyola College Memorial Chapel fund, according to Father Talbot.

Members of the Student Council acted as ushers at the lecture, while a group of debutantes, under the chairmanship of Margaret Ann Reilly, handled clerical details incident to the lecture and distributed programs.

Proofs Presented

Waugh, the satirical novelist whose The Loved One is on the current best seller list, was educated at Oxford and a London art school. Received into the Roman Catholic Church in 1930, he was awarded the Hawthorden Prize six years later for his Edmund Campion, a biography of the Jesuit martyr.

Proofs of Brideshead Revisited, the 1946 best selling novel and Book-of-the-Month Club selection, were parachuted into Yugoslavia and corrected by Waugh in an isolated pocket of resistance. On December 3, 1947, Waugh presented these original proofs, handsomely bound in red leather and stamped with gold, to Loyola.

Calvert Kenning

160 pages, each nine by twelve inches, containing complete coverage of all Loyola events, academic, extracurricular, social and athletic.

A novel feature is the classification of activities into seasons of the year, rather than the usual bracketing of activities, sports, etc.

Fay stated that most of the copy of the fall section has been submitted to printer and engraver.

IRC Elects New Officers To Replace Two Graduates

In order to fill the gaps created by the graduation of two of its officers, the International Relations Club of Loyola held elections for the offices of President and Secretary on January 11.

Martin Klein was elected President and James Dietz was named Secretary to replace Klein. Both have been members of the group for the last two years.

Sidney L. Shapero, the retiring President, gave a final address at the meeting which followed. He thanked the club for the splendid cooperation that he had obtained while in office.

Klein then stated that he hoped to maintain the high standards set by his predecessor and to continue club activities as in the past.

Mr. James Perrott, Instructor in English at Loyola, lectured to the I.R.C. on "Parliamentary Law" on February 8.

The International Relations Club meets in Room 201 every Tuesday afternoon at 3:15.

Mr. Harry Kirwin continues as moderator of the Club.

Poster Contest

Miss Finnan, School Librarian, emphasized the following rules for the Poster Contest now being conducted by the Library.

1. The theme of the posters is not restricted.
2. All entries must be submitted by Monday, February 14.
3. Posters should not be larger than 24" by 32".
4. Contest will be judged on a basis of originality and neatness.

Lecture Given By Fr. Parsons

The Social Science Club of Loyola sponsored a lecture on "Relations between Church and State" by Rev. Wilfred Parsons, S.J., on Thursday, February 3. The lecture which lasted for one hour, was followed by a half hour discussion period.

Fr. Parsons is Professor of Political Science at Catholic University of America, and a contributing editor of America, Jesuit weekly.

In his lecture Fr. Parsons emphasized that the Catholic church teaches that the Church and State are two distinct societies, each having its own field of activity yet each cooperating with the other. The concept of Separation of Church and State is a nebulous one in the minds of many, the lecturer explained, and may have any meaning the speaker chooses. If pushed to a logical extreme this idea could deny a state service, such as running water, to a parochial school.

For this reason Father hoped that the expression Separation of Church and State would cease to be a rallying call for the opponents of parochial education.

Fr. Parsons has recently written a book entitled The First Freedom in which he discusses Separation of Church and State, as expressed in the First Amendment to the constitution.

He came to Loyola from Scranton University in 1945, at which time he became Buyer for the College. Subsequently, he became Assistant to the Dean of Discipline and later assumed his present position.

Entered Order In 1936

Entering the Society of Jesus in 1936, Brother Hagerty was sent to Wernersville. While there, he was Sacristan, Tailor and Buyer.

Brother Hagerty took his first vows at Wernersville in 1936, and his final vows at Loyola in 1947.

Debaters Plan Radio Program

The Robert Bellarmine Debating Society took part in two decision debates during the mid-year holidays, losing one and winning one. The Society was also represented at several non-decision debates.

The two decision debates were with LaSalle and Swarthmore Colleges. Edward Clarke and Harry Shock won over La Salle, while Edward North and Robert Nayden lost to Swarthmore.

Radio Plans Announced

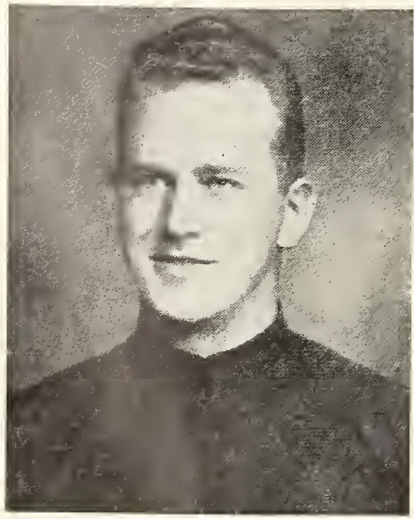

In the non-decision debates, John Evelius and Vernon Lemmon represented Loyola at Howard University; Bertram Morales, John Kelly, Eugene Welsh, and Charles Clifton, at Catholic University; and Lawrence Mooney and Joseph Reiter, at Seton Hall.

Edward North, Secretary of the Debating Society, announced plans for a radio program, as well as for several club debates. The Club will also schedule an Easter Holiday trip.

Might Meet Richmond

The Bellarmines have been contacted for possible debates with the University of Richmond debating society, which plans a northward trip in the near future.

Because of a difficulty in obtaining competent judges, many of the Society's debates have been of a non-decision nature.

Mt. St. Mary's Five Claims Victory Over Loyola Quint

—by Frank Gallagher—

Top Of The Week: Eminent statistician Vince Bagli reports that if your parents didn't have any children, chances are that you won't either.

This Is It Department:

The Mount Saint Mary's College paper carried the following headline after the Loyola victory over their basketball quint.

Mount Beats Loyola! (First Half)

Loyola Beats Mount! (Finally)

You bet it was final—a twenty point margin, 76-56. The things these mountain ears get excited about! They were leading Loyola by a few points at the half so they all get inebriated by a pint of spring water.

Think of the mess we'd have if race tracks paid off for the horses leading when the race was only half over. Why the cost of dope would be cut in half. Ooops.

Then too, what would happen if ski jumps were judged by the poise, charm and grace of the skier when he was only half way down the slide. He wouldn't even have to take off into the blue and he could still win.

Drew Gallagher Predicts . . .

1) that half of the candy the generous boys give their shy maidens next Monday will be the stale Christmas leftovers repacked in heart shaped boxes. As a matter of fact, Rodgers and Blondell are giving away such boxes with every potted orchid purchased from their firm.

2) that Easter will fall on April 17 this year.

3) that Stephens, Carmody and Schaub will finally break open Beethoven's Fifth tonight at the beer party.

4) that Hairbreadth Harry will rescue Little Nell from Relentless Rudolph and pay off the mortgage on the pigsty.

Leimkuhler Wins Presidency In Third Sophomore Class Election

Edwin B. Leimkuhler was elected President of the June '51 Class in the Class' third election, which was held on December 16.

Other officers elected in this, the first class to return to the prewar four-year curriculum, were John Schanberger, Vice-President; Eugene Corrigan, Secretary; and David McCourt, Treasurer.

Calvert Hall Graduate

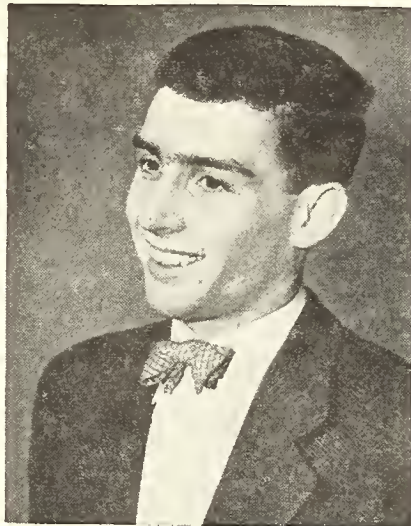

Leimkuhler, 20, is a graduate of Calvert Hall College, where he was editor of the yearbook, Cardinal and Gold, and played interscholastic basketball.

Since matriculating at Loyola, Leimkuhler has been active in the Junior Sodality. He and his twin brother, Ferd, organized the Sodality newspaper, Vision.

Election Fails Twice

The first two class elections failed because of insufficient voting, and the Student Council subsequently declared the eight candidates a temporary election committee. Later the Council lowered the minimum-vote requirement, and the third polling was successful.

The June '51 Class is composed of former members of the July '50 Class who have elected to take a four-year course.

Hidden (?) Talent

There is one duty of critical analysis that is often overlooked: to praise talent of merit where and whenever it is found. Here at Loyola, there is talent lying unused and unsuspected, and as part of my duty as a columnist of the GREYHOUND, I want to address this "open letter" to Father Monaghan, Moderator of the Mask and Rapier Society.

Forthcoming productions reportedly scheduled for Loyola thespians are the Passion Play "Thy Kingdom Come" and the musical on cowboy stories, "Dakota." If there seems to be a sad lack of talent for either, I would like to suggest an investigation into the potentialities of Loyola Students, Charles Funk, Gus Gilbert, and Tom Rodney.

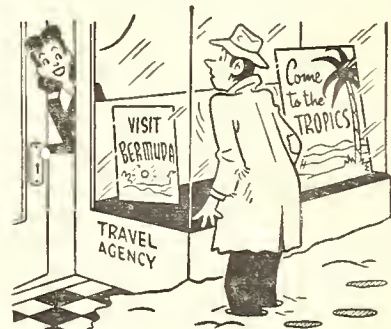

Two of these, Gus Gilbert and Charlie Funk, are definite comedy talent. Gus has a manner that is careless and natural, yet hilariously funny when combined with his koshers accent. A shrug of the shoulders and a twist of the head and Gus could make Fernandel look like Ferdinand The Bull. By all means, look up Gus!

Charlie Funk is not only funny and a fast man with satiric patter, but he also is good-looking. An attribute which, whether we admit it or not, is quite an asset on stage. He is also an asset in the fact that he can play anything—and dialect is nothing difficult for him to master. Charlie is a comedy find supreme.

Tom Rodney is not only a baritone unequaled here at school, but he is also experienced and has fine lyric control and diction. Scheduled to sing the love song Wonderful, Wonderful in the latest Sparklette show "Alone Together," Tom also directs the choral work there.

So, look them over, Father. Might be interesting.

The Deer Cry; A Novel of Patrick of Eirinn

—William G. Schofield

THE DEER CRY, a fictionalized story of St. Patrick, weaves the lore of ancient Eirinn with historical fact to give us an Irish tale to be read far into the night.

We first meet Patrick on the ship of King Niall, a captive slave being carried to Ireland away from the smoking ruins of his birthplace
Gaul. Another slave is the maiden Concessa whose destiny and that of Kevin, the descendant of Irish kings, are to be linked with Patrick's for many years. Patrick was visionary; the tyrant's whip in the person of his masters could not break his spirit. On the heights of Slemish in loneliness and prayer his love for Ireland grew until it became as a torch flaming in the halls of Tara. We follow his escape back to Gaul, his preparation in the monasteries of Marmoutier and Lerens, his return to Ireland and his encounter with the Druids. The rest is history.

The author has shown great skill in relating this tale. He has treated his subjects delicately and with warmth. Ireland need give nothing more to the world than the likes of Patrick of Eirinn.

A Call To Arms

Moscow has thrown off the cloak of deceit. Open warfare has been declared against Catholicism, its leaders and its peoples.
No longer can there be any denial of the true aims of Communism. Democracy must be annihilated. Christianity must die.
World conquest is the ultimate goal of these Red butchers.

Communists, no matter where they are, no matter what their disguises may be, are lethal threats to our democracy and the Christianity within. They manipulate the rights which our nation accords them that these rights may be denied all men. At the sound of strife, their first refuge is taken behind the skirts of the Constitution of the United States. They demand and make use of every legal hiding place in the statute books. The cry for justice is sickening; the screams for mercy are revolting;
the denials of guilt are laughable.

Communism must not be allowed to gain a stronger foothold any place in the world. We must begin our campaign at home—class or society writes to the Maryland legislators in support of the Anti-Subversive Amendment to the Maryland Constitution.

THE GREYHOUND will have printed form letters in support of the bill ready next Monday morning. They may be picked up in the office of THE GREYHOUND from Frank Gallagher from 11:35 until 2:20.

Appoint captains to supervise the distribution and collection of the letters in the various groups. See to it that every man signs the forms. Return them to THE GREYHOUND office not later than next Wednesday afternoon. The letters will be forwarded to Annapolis.

Don't dodge this task by appointing a committee to take the work off your hands. Do it yourself. Here is an opportunity to do something constructive for your government and your faith.

Heart Problems:

Nannette Tells Dopey Girl To Stop Taking Morphine

Dear Nannette:

Once I was in love. But that was eons and eons ago. He left me in a lurch in the church. My friends warned me about him. They advised me to turn my attention to a handsome Loyola College boy and to give up my intended. But I was a fool. Utter perversity of human nature caused me to let the Loyola boy get away.

That's why I started taking morphine which I conceal in the bottom of my daily ice cream cones. Strawberry, chocolate, Fruity, egg nog.
I eat them all in six delicious flavors; and at the bottom of each—a morphine pill. Lately I've come to detest chocolate ice cream.

Now my question is—can I, in conscience, give up my chocolate and eat vanilla ice cream cones with my morphine?

Shakey

Dear Shakey:

You little dope! Morphine is no answer to the age old problem confronting you. For you there's one byword—while there's life, there's dope. You must give it up, I implore you.

Go to your Loyola man. Pour out your heart to him. He'll understand. His training in scholastic philosophy will enable him to ascertain your true love. He will not doubt the existence of your love.

It's more than a figment of the mind with a foundation in reality.

P. S. If you have any old morphine pills around, just send them to me. I'll dispose of them, of them, of them, of them, of them.

Pacing The Pack:

Schedule Difficulties Harass Basketballers

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

Last month's 74 to 70 basketball victory over Seton Hall's strong quintet goes a long way toward proving the contention, made in this column some time ago, that Loyola would fare much better against the big-name teams on our schedule if given a chance to get a bit game-hardened before meeting these power outfits.

There's not much that even the Athletic Department can do about it, except possibly to moan. The fact remains, however, that a string of tough opponents crowded into the early season play and followed by numerous 'weak' opponents makes for a sadly unbalanced program.

The hoopsters are hit from two angles. Against the top-drawer opposition the players are over-tense and over-worked; then, against lesser clubs, the tendency is to ease up somewhat, 'take them in stride,' or perhaps to over-rate the other team (witness the fracas at Frederick, the tussle with St. Mary's). Nothing could be more unnecessary than for one of these foes to slip in an upset.

There's no doubt about the present team being the foremost offensive unit in Loyola history, but a properly balanced menu, interspersing breathers and toughies, is also conducive to that near-undefeated season that is desired in certain quarters. The thing to remember is that we are not Kentucky, . . . and even the Wildcats take a licking once in a while.

Johnson Rates High

It's interesting to note that Loyola has a 'big four' to carry the major burden of outscoring the enemy, instead of this task resting in the hands of one or two men. But it's even more interesting to observe that another factor in winning is to hold down the score of the adversary. That immediately brings to mind the outstanding defensive man of the Loyola team, Bill Johnson. Bill is the man who gives Loyola a 'big five.'

Whenever a Greyhound opponent boasts a particularly outstanding shotmaker on its agenda, unless the fellow is of gigantic stature, it's always Johnson who is assigned the difficult task of spreading the blanket over his efforts. The ex-St. Paul ace has justified his specialized role by some magnificent performances.

Among his better achievements was the job he did two years ago on Cliff McNeeley, of Texas Wesleyan, when the nation's leading scorer netted but seven points. More recently he nearly gave Seton Hall's Pep Saul a case of the jitters, as he held the blond wizard to a like number of counters before fouling out in the latter stages of the game. Then there was the much-publicized Nick Scallion, who came to Evergreen on January 29 touting a 23-plus average for Washington College. Johnson whittled him down to a cool five tallies through 32 minutes of the test, and then took a rest in favor of substitutes.

And all this, mind you, by a youngster who was ready to turn in his uniform early in his Loyola career because he thought he didn't have the stuff to be of real value to the team.

Southerners Grab Mason-Dixon Glory

Since the expansion of the Mason-Dixon Conference into a 15-team circuit last spring, the newly-incorporated southern members have made a concerted drive to gain superiority over the old-timers. Randolph-Macon started the ball rolling by ousting Loyola as baseball champions, with a neat 6 to 4 verdict at Ashland, Va., shortly after the changeover.

Then little Roanoke College came along to show complete mastery of the cross-country situation on November 22, Loyola again being shoved into the runner-up spot. Now, Hampden-Sydney has barged into the forefront of the basketball picture, and apparently offers a dangerous challenge to Loyola's two-year rule on the hardwood. That matter will be settled in March, during the post-season tournament.

These rebels are accounting for empty spaces in the Evergreen trophy case, and it's about time the Greyhounds clamped down.

Greyhound Guns Clip Blue Jays And Records

by Gerry McCormick

Loyola completely outclassed a stubborn Hopkins quint last Saturday night on the Evergreen floor, to chalk up its seventh consecutive Conference victory, 87-63. A sell-out crowd was thrilled by the brilliant play of Loyola's great star, Jim Lacy, who netted 16 field goals and seven foul shots for a record-breaking total of 39 points.

Lacy attempted only 27 shots, thus giving him an excellent .599 average. Hustling Mike Zedalis

American U. Topped Easily

by Bob Bourbon

Loyola's defending Mason-Dixon hardwood champions toppled American University from the ranks of the loop's unbeaten by a score of 62-41, in a contest played at Evergreen on January 22.

The visitors started fast, and held a 6-0 lead before Center Bob Anderson put in a layup for the Green and Grey's initial tally. Two more points by Anderson on fouls, and a long set shot by Bill Johnson then evened the count.

Outside Shots Effective

The remainder of the first half saw the Greyhounds capitalizing on outside shots, to effectively counter the Eagles' zone defense, and by the game's midway mark the home team was leading, 39-22.

Jim Lacy, who led both teams in scoring, with 25 points, made good on three fouls, and on six out of eight shots from the floor in the first half.

Rough Second Half

The final twenty minutes were more roughly played than the first; but the Green and Grey maintained a steady 20 point lead, despite the fact that Coach Lefty Reitz's lineup was dotted with substitutes.

Bob Lamon's 13 points were high for the visitors in the test, which saw Fred Fling, Len Garshag, and Loyola's Anderson bow out on fouls.

Swimming Test Taken From Tommies, 47-28

Jack Blondell, veteran Greyhound swimmer who contributed to Loyola's triumph over Scranton, shows how it's done.

Loyola's strong swimming squad swept to an easy 47-28 triumph on January 28 against Scranton University in the latter's pool. The current Mason-Dixon champions captured six first place positions in the nine events held.

Loyola's victories came in diving, the 200-yard breaststroke, the 50-yard freestyle, the 160-yard backstroke, the 100-yard freestyle, and the 300-yard medley.

Managers Swim

Managers Bryan Brandon and Jack Downey got into the act when Franny Mueller entered them in the 400-yard relay. The meet was already clinched and the fans got a big kick out of Bullet Brandon's effort to finish his hundred yards. Freestyler Jake Fisher had to pull Brandon ashore.

Clint Bamberger gained his seventh consecutive meet victory with a win in the 200-yard breaststroke; he sped over the distance in his best time of the year, 2:24.2

Johnny Mohler and Earl Schmidt continued to dominate the diving by placing in the order named. Tom Maskell turned in a sparkling victory with a fast 1:47 for the 160-yard backstroke.

Other first place positions fell to Jake Fisher and Freshman Johnny Allen. Maskell, Bamberger, and Allen combined to give the Greyhounds their final victory of the afternoon in the 300-yard medley relay.

Maryland Is 21-11 Victor

In a match held at College Park on February 4, the Loyola grapplers went down to defeat at the hands of a strong University of Maryland wrestling team, 21-11.

The Terrapins from College Park captured the victor's laurels in five out of eight scheduled weight classes, forfeiting the 121-pound test.

Mus Bower proved to be a little too much for the Terps Ed Morair in the 155-pound class taking a 5-1 decision.

In the 165-pound class, Joe Willson of Maryland decided Franny Meagher in a close, exciting, contest.

Jeep Mueller, top heavyweight of the Green and Grey, once again triumphed in a match which was a display of sheer strength. He decided Al Matthews, 11-3. Other Maryland victories were posted by Ernie Framm over John Mercaldo, 128-pounds; Ed Lyaskowski over John Agee, 135-pounds; Tom Scott over Steve Krizan, 145-pounds; and Jim Marschek over Carter Beese, 175-pounds.

Greyhounds Trip Pirates At Evergreen, 74 to 70

Loyola's surging basketball team downed Seton Hall, 74 to 70, on January 19, and thereby tucked away its third straight victory in the season's most extended streak before a howling Evergreen mob.

The Greyhounds, coming back from an opening 6 to 2 deficit, went ahead at 8 to 6 and maintained a lead throughout the contest, except for a brief moment near the end of the first half and again near the end of the game.

Fouls Pay Off

It was a high percentage of hits at the foul line, which has been a big factor in the Green and Grey's attack all year, that swept the margin of victory in favor of the host team. The visiting Pirates could connect with no more than 8 baskets in 24 tries from the circle, while Loyola, led by Jim Lacy's 7 for 7, doubled their opponents' output in 25 attempts.

Big Bob Anderson, Greyhound center, once again led his mates in the scoring column, with 24 markers. He was followed by Mike Zedalis and Lacy, who boosted their personal output with 18 and 17 points, respectively.

Leverte Scores 20

Tom Leverte supplanted Pep Saul as Seton Hall's scoring gun by posting 20 tallies on the score board.

Cagers Lose To LaSalle

LaSalle College's Basketball Team, sparked by its 6-foot 9-inch center, Larry Foust, defeated Loyola's Cagers, 85 to 61, in a non-conference tilt at Philadelphia, on January 11. Foust, in addition to dominating backboard play, chipped in with 23 points to augment the Explorers' powerful attack.

Especially encouraging for the losing Greyhound cause was the performance of Bob Anderson, who won consolation scoring laurels, with 20 points. Guard Andy O'Donnell with 17 markers, was close behind the Green and Grey pivot man.

Greyhounds Top Terrors

Loyola's undefeated Green and Grey court squad journeyed to Westminster on Thursday, January 13 and leveled the Terrors of Western Maryland to the tune of 77-49.

Posting their second Mason-Dixon win of the year against no losses, the Greyhounds opened with a strong scoring spree and were never headed. Led by Capt. Jim Lacy and center Bob Anderson, who accounted for thirty-four points between them, Loyola marched out to a comfortable 44-27 half time lead.

Greyhounds Fatten Lead

During the second half, Western Maryland's short, inexperienced quint continued to be the prey of the visiting sharpshooters. The home forces fell far behind as the boys from Evergreen increased their lead to twenty-eight points at the final gun.

Jim Lacy led the point parade with an output of 20 markers on eight field goals and four fouls. Anderson of Loyola and Adamovitch of Western Maryland were next in line with 14 apiece.

Staff Photo—Lightner

Loyola's Carter Beece has Baltimore University's Bill Wagner in a rather embarrassing position, as the 175-pound matmen tangled in a contest at Evergreen on January 22.

Grapplers Cop Pair Of Meets

The Green and Grey "Grunt and Groaners" notched their second and third wins of the season as they conquered Catholic U., 27½-4½, in Washington, D. C., on Friday, January 14, and eight days later played host to Baltimore U., at Evergreen, triumphing by a score of 30-8.

Against the Cardinals the Greyhounds won all but two bouts, losing by a decision in the 128-pound class, and having to settle for a tie in the 175-pound division. Bob Weiss, in the 121-pound class, and Franny Meagher, in the 165-pound class, won by falls, pinning their opponents in the second period.

Baltimore U. salvaged two first places in their losing effort, winning in the 155-pound and the heavyweight classes.

Swimming, Mat Contests Feature February Agenda

by Andy O'Donnell

The Loyola College Natators under the capable guidance of Franny Mueller, face two brisk tests when they meet the Catholic University tankmen and the classy Swarthmore swim team.

Facing the Cardinals of Catholic U. on February 12 at the latter's pool, the Loyola team anticipates a stern test. The Green and Grey combine, winners last year in a meet held in the Capitol City, have a veteran team and should come through with a victory. Johnny Allen, who has been replaced in the medley relay by experienced Dunne, will swim in the 50-yard, 100-yard, and 300-yard relay freestyle events.

Swarthmore Tough Foe

On February 19, the Evergreen tankmen will seek a victory against an out-of-state foe when they meet the strong Swarthmore team from Pennsylvania. The meet, which will be held at the Pennsylvanians' pool, should be interesting to watch. It would be a feather in the cap of Franny Mueller's squad if it were to cop a win against the team which is the class of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Phil Goodman's grapplers have their work cut out for them when they meet the Westchester State Teachers wrestling team and the Western Maryland team next week. Both matches take the Green and Grey on the road.

Veteran Westchester Team

Westchester, which triumphed over Loyola last year, has a veteran team. Maryland defeated Loyola and Westchester by approximately the same score, which all adds up to a nip and tuck contest scheduled for the Teachers' gym on February 12.

The Greyhounds return to Mason-Dixon competition February 18 when they meet the Western Maryland wrestling team in a match to be held in the Terrors' gym. A rugged affair is expected by Goodman's groaners. However, indications point to a Loyola victory.

Loyola Fish Edge A. U.

The Loyola swimmers edged out American U. 38-37 on Jan. 14, at Washington, D. C. The Greyhounds picked up eight points in the breast-stroke, won by Clinton Bamberger, and eight in the 50-yard dash, by Jake Fisher. Bamberger's time was 2:49 for the 200 yards, while Fisher dashed 50 yards in 25.4.

The diving department compiled six points with Earl Schmidt capturing honors on the low board. Johnny Allen led the field in the 100-yard freestyle in 1:00.5, adding another five counters to the score.

Complete failure to rack up points in the 400-yard relay and the 300-yard medley relay hurt Loyola's cause, but by giving American U. a tough fight in the 440, 220, and backstroke, Franny Muellers' boys managed to edge the Eagles.

Sport Spots

Mel Baldwin, former Patterson Park Cage star, has taken up studies at Loyola. With him and Walt Sibiski, transfer student from Western Maryland College, eligible next season, things don't look gloomy for the '49-'50 court squad.

Phil Lohrey, has really gone pro in a big way. He's now coaching the Baltimore City Junior College Wrestling squad.

Loyola Wins 76-56 Tilt

The Loyola basketball team, faced with a five point half-time deficit, bounded back in the final 20 minutes to score 47 markers and run roughshod over Mt. St. Mary's, 76 to 56, on January 15 at the Frederick (Md.) Armory.

The inspired Mounties appeared to be on the way to their first win over Loyola since 1944, after establishing a lead which hovered between 4 and 10 points during the first period.

But the Green and Grey five looked like a different club as they took the floor for the second half, whittled the margin, and then grabbed the lead, which they held securely through the remainder of the contest.

Mike Zedalis, Andy O'Donnell, and Bob Anderson accounted for 51 Greyhound points.

Pete Clark, Mountie scoring star, departed on personals late in the game, after scoring 17 points. Mike Russo, the other St. Mary's ace, was effectively tied up by Bill Johnson and also fouled out.

Washington Beaten Here

by Gene Conroy

The Greyhounds had little trouble in trouncing Washington College, 85 to 63, at Evergreen on January 29. In rolling to their fifth conference victory, the varsity established two new Alumni Gymnasium records and tied another.

The new marks are: highest team score, 85 points, and highest team score for one half, 52 points, which Loyola accounted for in the second half. In sinking 36 field goals, the Greyhounds tied a record previously set by La Salle of Philadelphia back in 1945.

Starters Set Torrid Pace

Once again it was Jim Lacy, Bob Anderson and Andy O'Donnell who led the assault on the opponent's basket. Lacy captured scoring honors with his 21 points, but was closely followed by Anderson with 18. O'Donnell tossed in 14 points.

Carrying a 23-point average into the game, Nick Scallion, the Shoremen's scoring ace, scored but 5 points off the close guarding of Billy Johnson during the first 32 minutes of the game. However, Scallion dumped in 14 points in the last 8 minutes, to run his total to 19, as Lefty Reitz sent his subs into the game.

Initial Action Slow

Playing a deliberate style of ball in the slow moving first half, Washington prevented Loyola from building a substantial lead and at one point went out in front, 24 to 23, as many of the Greyhounds' shots rolled off the rim. Lacy erased this lead as he connected from the outside on set shots. The first half ended with Loyola on top, 33 to 28.

The action grew faster in the second half as Loyola ran off to a 20 point lead. Midway in the half there was no doubt as to the outcome of the game as the subs continued to roll up the score against the Sho'men.

Playoffs To Commence In Intramural Hardwood Play

by Ed Ward

Basketball

Most of the league winners have been determined and the six surviving quint's will vie in the playoffs in the Intramural basketball tournament. By the next edition of THE GREYHOUND the ultimate winner will have been crowned.

In the Green league the Diz Kids, captained by John Callahan, have taken on all comers to qualify for the playoffs. The Kids romped over their opponents easily except for a 25-24 victory over Buz Stricker's All Stars.

Orange League Undecided

In the Orange League the tilt between the Keystoneers, led by the Horrigan twins, and Pete Stehle's Fr. Horvath's Five will decide the league winner, since both are undefeated. The standings in the Blue League are also in a dead heat between Joe Woytowitz's Tieless Tycoons and The Variety Show quint, led by Bill and Ed Taylor.

Demosthenes' Dribblers lay claim to the top rung in the Purple League. With Charlie Sybert acting as rebound man and Neal Sybert as chief play maker, the Greeks have won all four of their games.

Celtics Win League

In the Red league, Lou Fonte's Jets and Gus Gilbert's Celtics played the rubber game to decide the playoff contender, and the Jets, comprised of soccer players, bowed to Gilbert's team by 1 point.

Finally, in the White league it's anybody's ball game with Ned McNeal's Evergreen #1, Carl Visek's Globetrotters, and the Blanks, headed by Gene Conroy, in a triple tie with identical 2-1 records.

Loyola Beats Hopkins ...

the high scoring game, the most noteworthy, of course, being Lacy's 39 points for the individual high scoring mark on the Evergreen court.

Loyola's 87 points was the top score for the Green and Grey this year, while the total output of both teams also set a new court record for scoring in a single game.

53 Fouls Called

The game was spirited throughout, as evidenced by the fact that 53 personal fouls were called and four players were ejected on personals, including Loyola's Anderson and Frank Barrett.

The outcome of the game was never in doubt as the Greyhounds' fast-moving offense rolled up the score, with only mediocre competition from Hopkins' attack which was continuously harassed by the clever Greyhounds, especially Bill Johnson who, surprisingly, did not score a point.

Greyhounds Meet Tough Foes; Travel To Brooklyn

Loyola's Greyhounds will stand the rapid fire of five games in the coming two weeks. On the road for the first two, the Greyhounds test St. Francis of Brooklyn tonight, and American University on Tuesday. They are back at Evergreen against Mt. St. Mary's on 19 February, and against Catholic University on the 21, then away again to test Hopkins at Homewood, on February 23.

Tonight's fracas in Brooklyn should prove to be a thrilling finale to this year's non-conference ventures. The Terriers are always a strong club, and finished last year's season twentieth in the nation on defense, boasting a 16 and 9 log. Yogi Bough, first Negro ever to play for St. Francis, will lead the defensive tactics. However, the Terriers are not all defense; Tom Gallagher, high scorer, carries an approximate 16 point record into the fray.

American U. Seeks Revenge

American University will be out to avenge last month's strapping by the Greyhounds. Leroy Ishman, All-Conference forward last year, and his Eagle teammates don't fancy being outshined by the Green and Grey, as witnessed by the spirited affair in January.

Swimmers Beat Hopkins, 48-27

The Loyola swimmers took a 48-27 decision from Hopkins last Saturday afternoon in the Evergreen pool. The Green and Grey won six firsts out of nine events, and would have won the 300-yard medley relay if Tom Maskell had not been disqualified, thereby giving Hopkins first place.

One of Loyola's aces, Clint Bamberger, took the 200-yard breaststroke event, while Earl Schmidt dazzled the spectators with his display of diving ability. Andy McCormick and Jake Fisher also won their events in impressive fashion.

Baseball, Lacrosse

Spring training for pitchers and catchers has started, and these players have been working out in the gym during the past week in order to be in good shape when spring arrives. New hopefuls for the lacrosse team will begin practicing Monday.

Class Of '40 Leads League

Maintaining a terrific pace, the Class of '40 is currently leading the Alumni Bowling League with a record of 13 wins and two losses; sparked by Rector, Pilachowski and P. Donohue, this squad has now won their last ten contests.

Closely following the league leaders is the Class of '42 which boasts such accomplished wood-choppers as Disney and Hoyt. Disney now claims the best individual average by posting a mark of 109.15 which was just enough to surpass the 108.83 score made by Fogarty ('49-'50).

High Game By Disney

Disney's high weekly game of 121 was still far below the season's record of 143 held by P. Donohue of the Class of '40.

Of the 51 bowlers participating in the league, 16 hold an average of better than 100. Pilachowski turned in the high weekly set with a three game total of 314, but could not better Disney's earlier record of 381.

New Sodalists Received; February Dance Planned

The Class of June '51 has postponed the Record Dance, originally planned for February 18, because of conflict with the Sweethearts' Ball.

The annual reception of candidates into the Sodality of Our Lady of Evergreen was held on Friday, February 4, at 9:00 a.m. in the Evergreen chapel. As guest speaker for the occasion, the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., President of Loyola College, addressed the newly-received Sodalists.

The reception was conducted under the direction of Mr. John J. Burns, S.J., Moderator of the Junior Sodality, and Ferdinand Leimkuhler, Prefect of the junior group. The Sodality on the campus has announced final plans for a dance to be conducted by the Sodality Union of Baltimore on February 18. "Sweethearts' Ball" was chosen as the name for the dance which will be held at Pythian Hall from 9 till 1.

Admission price for the affair will be $2.40 per couple. Music for the informal dance will be provided by Bill Lewis.

Receipts To Go To Orphans

The dance is being sponsored by the Sodality Union for the benefit of the Orphans' Fund. The Sodality has been most active all year in this field of endeavor, conducting a party for the orphans on the Evergreen campus earlier in the year.

Tickets for the dance can be obtained from the Sodality members on campus. A large portion of the Orphans' Fund is used each year to provide the annual Sodality Christmas party for the orphans of the city.

The Lischka Story:

Mr. Lischka Traces Life From Hungary To America

This is the first in a series of two articles on the life of Mr. Charles N. Lischka, Instructor in English and German at Evergreen. The editorial staff of THE GREYHOUND found an interview with Mr. Lischka so interesting that it felt obliged to recount in full the details of the life of this versatile man.

by Robert S. Custer

Mr. Charles N. Lischka is a man of many talents and of many titles. He answers to Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, teacher, lecturer, writer, linguist, author, skilled laborer, educator, man of research, translator, and movie censor.

But the name of which he is most proud is "Grand-daddy," bestowed on him by his adoring grand-daughter, "Princess Cathy."

Born In Hungary

Mr. Lischka was born in Hungary at the turn of the century. His home town became part of Rumania. His early education was in the parochial school of his home and then in the Royal Catholic Gymnasium in Szatmar, Hungary. The Gymnasium, the equivalent of our high school and first two years of college, was under the Catholic Educational System, but Mr. Lischka lived in a Jesuit boarding school.

The Jesuits supervised the studies and religion at his home while the regular teachers taught him at school. Mr. Lischka was the youngest Jesuit novice at 15 years of age, and, if his parents had not moved to the U. S., he would have remained in the Jesuit order.

Attends School In Chicago

At 16, he entered the Loyola Academy in Chicago, a junior college, where he won first honors in English composition. He had been in the U. S. but one year and "was having a hard time speaking the language," but still managed to win first honors for writing it. He then entered the Loyola University of Chicago.

In his first year he won the Inter-collegiate Latin contest of the Missouri province with a translation from Cardinal Newman. Mr. Lischka was advanced from the Freshman year to the Senior year in the
